Dear Bill:

Your memorandum of 2 June 1981 solicited the views of this Agency regarding the question of utilizing private industry to provide the internal security patrol force at the J. Edgar Hoover Building. Specifically, as requested, this matter has been reviewed by the Directorate of Operations, the National Foreign Assessment Center, and the Office of Security.

The fundamental concern of this Agency centers on the following:

- Adequate protection of classified foreign intelligence, counterintelligence, and agent-sensitive operational information disseminated by us to the FBI;
- Protection of the identities of officers of the Clandestine Service who visit the FBI Building in the conduct of Agency business;
- Protection of the identities of officers of the clandestine services of foreign governments who visit the FBI Building accompanied by our own Clandestine Service officers; and
- Adequate protection of discussions between personnel of this Agency and the FBI concerning agent-sensitive litigation.

The members of an internal security force with unescorted access to any building housing information of the sensitivity described above would, in my view, have to meet standards equivalent to a Top Secret clearance. This might well impose conditions beyond the reach of most private services. High turnover, not uncommon in this field, could impose on the Bureau an unacceptable investigative burden over and above the intrinsic undesirability of excessively widespread exposure of its internal security procedures.

In summary, this Agency has serious reservations about the practicality of employing private industry to furnish the FBI with an internal security patrol. We believe that the more direct control inherent in the present system of using Government staff employees to carry out this important mission is the best guarantee of the continued protection of Agency classified information and intelligence sources and methods.

Yours,

/s/ Bill

William J. Casey

CIRCULAR NO. A-76, ENTITLED "POLICIES FOR ACQUIRING COMMERCIAL OR INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS
AND SERVICES NEEDED BY THE GOVERNMENT"

OMB Circular A-76 affirms the Federal Government's general policy of reliance on the private sector for goods and services. The Department of Justice committee dealing with A-76 implementation has requested the FBI to explain why various activities cannot be procured from private industry. One such activity is the internal security patrol force at the J. Edgar Hoover Building. The FBI has applied for an exemption from the requirements of A-76 for the internal security patrol force and has presented various arguments on behalf of this exemption. All these arguments, including our responsibility to safeguard classified information, have been denied by the Department of Justice A-76 committee except for questions relating to the reaction by other cooperating agencies within the Intelligence Community to a commercial guard service patrolling the J. Edgar Hoover Building. Should we fail to obtain an exemption, we will be required to solicit bids from commercial "guard services" for the performance of the internal security patrol function. (C)

Comments are requested concerning any limitation on the type or quantity of information or other assistance now furnished to the FBI which would result from the presence of a commercial security patrol in the J. Edgar Hoover Building. If the CIA opposes the institution of a commercial security patrol, a response in the form of a letter or letters which could be shown to the Department of Justice A-76 committee would be appreciated.
